

What heart's content?

Philip Rosseter

5
What heart's con- tent can he find, What hap- py sleeps can his eyes em-
But he that loves to be lov'd, And in his deeds doth a- dore heav'n's

10 brace, That bears a guil- ty mind? His taste sweet wines will ab- hor; No pow'r, And is with pi- ty mov'd, The night gives rest to his heart, The 15

mu- sic's sound can ap- pease the thoughts That wick- ed deeds de- plore. The pas- sion cheer- ful beams do a- wake his soul Re- viv'd in ev- 'ry part. He lives a 20

of a pre- sent fear Still makes his rest- less mo- tion there, And all the day
com- fort to his friends, And heav'n to him such bless- ing sends That fear of hell

25
he dreads the night, And all the night, as one a- ghist, he can- not dis- may His stead- fast heart that is en- ur'd the

1 2
fears the morn- ing light, and morn- ing light.
truth still to o- bey, that to o- bey.