

When Laura smiles

Philip Rosseter

When Lau- ra smiles, - - -
 The spi- rits that re- - main,
 Di- an- a's eyes - - - Love hath no fire - - - her sight re- vives - - -

 the spi- rits that re- - main are not a- dor- - ned but what he steals - - -

5
 both night and day; The earth and in flee- ting air Af- fact for with great- er power eyes. Than Lau- ra's, from her bright no Time hath no hea- ven views with de-pas- time to en- - when she lifts a-pow- er but that which

10

light twine while in her wan- ton play; And her her tress- ed hair; The birds for sport to lure. But when she her plea- sure lies. For she 15

speech with ev - er flow - ing mus - ic think sweet - Au - ro - ra, Mor - ning's she her eyes en - vine clos - eth, blind - ness with her di - vine beau - ties all the 20

doth re- doth pair The cru - el wounds of queen, doth ap- sub- pear dues, The From her bright sphere of doth world ap- sub- dues, And chief- fills est with grace of spi- rit my hum- ble muse.

25

sor - row and - un- tamed des- pair.
 Lau- ra shows - her looks di- vine. beau- ty sweet- - ly seat- ed there.
 spi- rit my hum- ble muse.

[a]