Lute

The first system of musical notation for the lute. It consists of a six-line staff with a treble clef and a 6/8 time signature. The notation includes rhythmic flags above the staff and various note values (minims, crotchets, quavers) with stems. The notes are labeled with letters 'a', 'e', and 'r'. There are repeat signs and first/second endings marked with '1' and '2'. The system ends with a double bar line.

The second system of musical notation for the lute. It continues the piece with similar notation to the first system, including rhythmic flags, note values, and letter labels. It features repeat signs and first/second endings marked with '1' and '2'. The system concludes with a double bar line.

The third and final system of musical notation for the lute. It continues the piece, ending with a final cadence marked by a double bar line and a fermata. The notation includes rhythmic flags, note values, and letter labels, with first/second endings marked with '1' and '2'. The system concludes with a double bar line.
